

After Thirty Years' Experience

With the Buggy trade of this section we have convinced the customer of the importance of considering
WHAT IS UNDER THE PAINT

on a buggy. True, he cannot tell by looking, but the brand and reputation of the maker is a guarantee of what he can expect in the way of service.

As a result purely of experience a man will now come into our show-room, and ask to be shown a Columbus, a Delker, an Anchor or some other of long tried and proven merit,

AFTER ALL HE HAS SEEN UNDER THE PAINT

We have a beautiful line of new and most attractive work to show you, and beg the favor of a visit.

REPORT ON NEXT FRIDAY

Kitty League Players Will Arrive Next Week For Practice.

SEASON OPENS MAY 28.

Several of The Old Favorites Are Coming Back Again.

The opening of the season in the Kitty League is now near at hand and the players are being signed up every day and ordered to report here next Friday May 10. Mike Lyons, Smith, Huhn and several others of the old team are expected. Yon and Johns have not signed contracts, but will no doubt do so as soon as they can be heard from. At least a dozen men will be tried out, some of them highly recommended. The question of a manager is now receiving serious consideration. There is some good material available and the team will line up all right and be in the fight for the pennant again this year.

LOCAL MARKET

Loose Sales Good and Some Hogshead Tobacco Disposed Of.

The local tobacco market is steady, with prices unchanged. The loose sales this week were good, but no very fine leaf made its appearance, the sales being made up of the lower grades. Receipts are falling off, now that most of the crop has been delivered. Sampling of the hogshead tobacco is beginning in earnest and the sales for the week embrace several hogsheads of the weed which brought satisfactory prices.

Flagged Train With Shirt.

Tearing his shirt from his back an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." A trial will convince you of their matchless merit for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Price 50 cents at all drug stores.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

As soon as Colonel Roosevelt had declared that he would accept the nomination if it were offered him, his admirers in all parts of the country started an active campaign to secure delegates in the convention. The Roosevelt movement is aided by a number of Republican governors and by many persons who formerly were advocates of the nomination of La Follette. The colonel's slogan is that the government must be put again in the hands of the people, and in line with this is his advocacy of a form of recall applied to judicial decisions that affect the people as a whole.

SUCCESS

Was Contest Held at Fairview May 1.

The fiddlers' contest at Fairview Wednesday night was well attended and was enjoyed by lovers of old time music. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Fairview Commercial Club. Dr. D. H. Erkiletian had charge of the contest. The Hopkinsville trio, Messrs. Randle, Bartley and McCarroll, with Mr. Hancock, of Fairview, guitar accompanist, won the prize offered for the best quartet, and Mr. Randle captured the prize in the individual contest. Jones & Harris won in the duet contest. About a dozen musicians participated.

ALL NEXT WEEK

The Starnes Stock Co. Will Be Here.

The Starnes Stock Company will open a week's engagement here next Monday night, showing in a tent on the Metcalfe lot, near Hotel Latham. There are thirty people in the cast and there will be an entire change of program each night. Popular comedy-dramas will be presented, all clean, moral and refined, catering especially to the ladies and children. This is said to be a most excellent organization and the press notices from points where they have played are very complimentary.

MAY MAGAZINES

National Magazine.

A magnificent airship cover design, reproduced from an oil painting by Arthur Hutchins, features the story "When Wishes Found Wings," in the May National Magazine. A portrait of the late General Frederick Dent Grant makes a striking frontispiece. "Affairs at Washington," by Joe Mitchell Chapple, is more than usually versatile and timely in its resume of Washington news and political causerie. "Our First Treaty With France," by the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, is a lucid picture of the leading diplomatic event of the Revolutionary Era.

A Companionable Magazine.

The May issue of Lippincott's Magazine is both refreshing and invigorating, well suited to the season of reviving energies. The complete novel (salient feature) is "Their Great Inheritance," a delightful story of Pennsylvania-German life, by Esie Tingmaster, who has already made a name for herself along these lines with her clever short stories. The theme of "Their Great Inheritance" has to do with a quarrel which divides the inhabitants of Raub's Station, an erstwhile placid and peaceful little village, into two warring factions. A relative of both sides, long known as a ne'er-do-well, is reported by a newspaper to have died and left a fortune to his kin. There is a great to-do in consequence, each side manoeuvring to outwit the other. The story is often intensely funny, sometimes pathetic, always entertaining. The climax is pretty sure to bring a lump into the reader's throat, and you're glad when the quarrel is patched up, for you much prefer to leave such really lovable folk happily situated.

Another important contribution is the first of a series of three hard-hitting articles by Hubert Bruce Fuller, on "How Congress Squanders Our Money." This deals principally with the army and navy expenditures and the pension appropriations.

Gerhart-Campbell.

A wedding which came as a pleasant surprise to many Clarksville friends was that of Mr. I. P. Gerhart and Miss Mamie Campbell. It occurred at St. Andrews Episcopal church, Louisville, Ky., April 30, at 2 p. m. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Frank M. Hardy. It was witnessed by a few intimate friends living at Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart will make an Eastern trip, after which they will be at home to Clarksville friends. The wedding is the termination of a courtship of more than a year, and was not unexpected by the more intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart. — Lea's Chronicle.

ROUND BROKE

And L. M. Tappan Had Bad Fall From Ladder.

L. M. Tappan, a painter working for C. W. Hagen on South Virginia Street while painting a house for the Misses Walker fell from a ladder and was badly injured. He was standing on a long ladder near the top when a round broke, throwing him to the ground. No bones were broken, but his injuries were so dangerous that they were believed to be fatal but yesterday he was reported to be some better. Mr. Tappan was taken to his home on Kentucky avenue. The latest information is that he has a chance to recover. He is a middle-aged man, more than 50 years of age.
